PREVENTION IS YOUR BEST PROTECTION

- We are continuously sterilizing all surfaces, equipment and patient rooms.
- Meticulous hand hygiene with alcohol-based hand sanitizers or soap and water.
- Washing your hands each time you enter into a room or come in from the outside.
- Coughing or sneezing into your arm as opposed to hands.
- After using a tissue for your nose, always washing your hands and/or using hand sanitizer.
- Avoiding close contact with anyone with influenza-like and/or upper respiratory symptoms.
- Stay home if you are ill. Practice social distancing and refrain from handshaking.

While we already follow the strictest guidelines for cleanliness, we are also updating additional measures to ensure proper hygiene and implement updated protocols as we adhere to the latest recommendations of the national and local governmental agencies.

Most importantly, we must recognize that COVID-19 is an evolving story and we need to do everything possible to keep our patients, our community, our families, and ourselves safe.

Our main concerns are the health and well-being of our patients, staff and the community at large.
